PROPOSALS

For Publishing, by Subscription,

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF

SIR WALTER SCOTT:

With a Biography: being the first American (and only) edition which contains the Author's last additions and illustrations, arranged upon their respective pages.

A COMPLETE and uniform edition of the various productions of the great 'Minstrel of the North,' is a desideratum with the American public. No library is complete without them, and no edition extant is sufficiently compact for such a repository; while the endless number of editions, without any uniformity in size, heretofore published, besides being exceedingly cumbrous, are far too voluminous and expensive to be within the reach of the great majority of readers. The undersigned therefore announce, that they have now in press, and will issue, an edition of the Works of Sir Walter Scott, which will embrace all his Poems, Novels, Histories, Biographies, and Fugitive Compositions, as well as the Biography and Private Correspondence, now in the course of publication in England, under the superintendence of Mr. Lockhart.

1st. In Parts: each Part embracing as much matter as is contained in two volumes of the present editions of the Waverley Novels, which will be put at the unprecedented low price of THIRTY SEVEN AND A HALF CENTS.

2d. Two parts will appear each month; but should the publishers find the work to meet the patronage they anticipate, FOUR PARTS will be issued monthly.

3d. The whole will be completed in seven volumes, or forty eight parts.

The paper on which the above is now printing, has been made expressly for the purpose; the present parts may, therefore, be considered a fair specimen, in every respect, of the whole work; but, should dissatisfaction arise with any subscriber, owing to an inferior article being offered, he may discontinue at any time, and have the amount paid returned.

Note.—The publication of the first volume is deferred until the receipt of the Biography, Private Correspondence, and the New Edition of the Author's Poetical Works, with 'contemporary criticism—various readings—and correspondence with some of the most eminent persons of the time when the Poems first appeared,' now in the course of publication in England.

Volume 1 will be ornamented with an excellent Portrait of Sir Walter Scott.

DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, NOVEMBER 8, 1833.

☞ CORRECTION.—In some of our papers, yesterday, in the list of Steam Engines, we omitted the word "monthly," in the account of coal consumed. We had it merely—"number of bushels of coal"—it should have been, "number of bushels of coal, monthly."

PUBLIC MEETING.—To morrow, at ten o'clock, A. M., is the time appointed for the meeting to select delegates to the Warren Convention.—We trust there will be a general attendance.

PENNSYLVANIA CANAL.—We publish, below, two articles, in relation to the business done on this great improvement, both of which are interesting, and may be depended upon as precisely correct.—The difference between the amount of tonnage going east, and that coming west, is very great; and, as is properly remarked, plainly proves that our western trade needs some encouragement, by the reduction of tolls on produce. It is for the interest of all parties—of the state, of the owner of the produce, and of the freighter—that the tolls on domestic productions should be reduced. If boats were compelled to go eastward empty, the freighter must earn enough on the westward trip to pay the expenses of two trips, and a little more, or he will not pursue the business long.—On the other hand, if he makes a little on his eastward trip, he can reduce his charge for transportation westward, and thus draw more business to the line.

Two facts are mentioned, in the second article, which are encouraging and interesting. The first is, that if passengers had, this year, paid toll at Pittsburgh, as they did last year, the amount of tolls for October, 1833, would have equalled the amount taken at the same office for the whole of the year 1832.

The next circumstance, which is worthy of notice, is that, during the last twelve months, the canal was closed only one month. While this proves, most conclusively, the advantage which our canal possesses over the New York Canal, it also furnishes a statisfactory reply to the pretended superiority of rail roads over canals in the winter.—This superiority, if it exists at all, is certainly, in our latitude, of very short duration.

COLLECTOR'S OFFICE, PITTSBURGH, November 6, 1833.

Our Canal continues in active operation—our Monthly Report for October is as follows—

Tonnage received from the east,	4,475,872 lbs.
" forwarded east,	939,578 "

—plainly proving that our western trade wants encouragement.

The amount of tolls received at the different offices for the same month:

TONNAGE EAST.

We have received at Pittsburgh,	$802 72 1-2

TONNAGE WEST.

There have been paid at Leechburgh,		$296 75 1-2
Do. do.	at Blairsville,	1,611 46 1-2
Do. do.	at Johnstown,	600 28 1-2
Total, - - -		$3,311 22 1-2

The number of boats, cleared from this office, for October, was 118.

Amount of Tonnage and Tolls taken on the Pennsylvania Canal, at Pittsburgh, for articles going east, from 1st November, 1832, till 1st November, 1833:

MONTHS.	TONNAGE.	PASSENGERS.	DOLLS. CTS.
1832–Nov.,	470,320 lbs.	6,152 miles.	330 72½
Dec.,	401,020	18,246	228 05½
1833–Jan.,	215593	645	60 10½
Feb.,	Closed.	—	—
March,	388,966	605	203 94½
April,	1,187,670	990	548 30
May,	712,578	8,326	581 10
June,	1,512,809	136	576 95½
July,	943,000	1,102	498 28½
Aug.,	820,440	1,593	486 87½
Sept.,	814,669	1,257	597 02½
Oct.,	939,578	1,228	802 74½
	8,406,643	40,288	$4,914 10

Tonnage, from the east to Pittsburgh, in October, 1833, 4,475,862 pounds. There can be no better proof of the increase of the business on the Pennsylvania Canal, than the fact that, in the month of October, 1833, there was $802 72½ taken at the Pittsburgh office, and during all the season of 1832 there were taken at the same office only $884 32—and, if the toll on passengers, which, this season, is paid at Blairsville, had been paid at Pittsburgh, as it was last season, there would have been more tolls taken in the month of October, 1833, than all the season of 1832. It is also worthy of the attention of Pennsylvanians, that our canal was open all the year, except the month of February, and, on examination, it will be found to have been the case every year since its commencement, while the New York canal is closed from three to four months every year.

For the Gazette.

MR. CRAIG—The Pennsylvania Rolling Mill, Miltenberger, Brown & Co., employs 47 hands, and consumes 300 bushels of coal per day—power of engine, 140 horse.

For the Gazette.

MR. CRAIG—I was much interested in reading the enumeration of steam engines in the city and county, contained in your paper of yesterday. It is calculated to give the stranger, and even the citizen, who looks over it attentively, new views of our business and manufactures. If the first cost could be affixed to each establishment, and the value of its yearly product, the table would present a mass of information truly interesting and valuable.—With a steam power equal to that of two thousand five hundred and eighty horses; and two thousand one hundred hands, daily and industriously at work, what an immense amount of manufactured articles must annually be sent off, from Pittsburgh, to the regions north, west, and south of us!—and when our markets shall be increased and extended by the new avenues of communication we expect shortly to see opened up to the east, the west, and the south, who can compute the trade and the wealth that will flow in upon Pittsburgh?

One part of the table appears to be defective, and, in some cases, incorrect; I allude to the statement of the amount of coal said to be consumed by each engine. It is not stated whether the amounts given are per day, week, month, or year, though it is evident that many of them will not agree to any of these times. For instance the Rolling Mill of Leonard, Semple, & Leonard is said to consume 20,000 bushels of coal—on Barbeau's map of the city it is said to consume 666 bushels daily, which, multiplied by 280 working days, will amount to 186,480 bushels in the year; which is about 30,000 bushels more than is said to be consumed by the whole 89 engines mentioned in the list.

Its coal is so very interesting an article to every Pittsburgher; giving life, and being, and prosperity to our manufactures, and to our city itself, and defending us, as our medical gentlemen contend, against cholera and many other calamities, the undersigned, and probably many more of your readers would be much obliged to your obliging correspondent to furnish a statement, as nearly correct as possible, of the amount of coal consumed at each of the establishments, mentioned in the list, per annum.

CARBON.

Our correspondent will find the omission corrected, by a note under the editorial head—in each case the estimate is of the monthly consumption.

NEWS BY THIS MORNING'S MAIL!!

FIVE DAYS LATER FROM ENGLAND.

NEW YORK, November 4.—Last evening the ship Ajax, Capt. Heirn, arrived from Liverpool, whence she sailed on 30th September. We are indebted, says the Courier and Enquirer, to the Captain for Liverpool papers of that date and London to the 29th.

No further intelligence had been received in England from Lisbon, and we have therefore nothing further on the state of affairs in Portugal, except a contradiction in a London paper, the Globe—of the report that Marshal Bourmont had proposed to capitulate to Don Pedro. That paper states, that in answer to a proposition to that effect, made by the British Ambassador, Lord Wm. Russell, the Marshal had replied that he did not feel himself in such circumstances as to render it expedient for him to decline recommending a further prosecution of the contest.

It is not without astonishment we perceive, in the translations from French papers, that serious apprehensions are entertained that the Duchess de Berri intends again to attempt a landing in that country. Rumors of an intended insurrection in Paris also prevailed. Should one take place,—which we do not believe—it would probably be with a view to the abolition of all regal power whatever, and not to a restoration of the Bourbons.

It had been believed, in London, that a serious insurrection had broken out in Constantinople, but it appears that nothing more had occurred in the capital of Turkey than some more of those disastrous conflagrations, which are so frequent there.

PARIS, Sept. 25.—About a week or ten days ago, I mentioned, in one of my letters, that the movements of the Duchess de Berri had awakened suspicion here, and that measures were adopted by the Government to prevent all possibility of a second expedition from Tuscany to the coast of Provence. Our last accounts from the south would show that the intentions of the roving Duchess had not been misconceived. The very same Carlo Alberton, which brought her last year to France, has been lately seen again, off Marseilles, where she landed letters, for some persons known to be deeply in the Carlist interest, and an extraordinary movement has been noticed among the most notorious adherents of the legitimate cause, in that part of France. The French Consuls, in Genoa and Leghorn, recommend the utmost vigilance to the authorities on the neighboring French coast, and circulars have recently been addressed, by the maritime prefect of Toulon, to all the agents acting under him, conveying instructions calculated to defeat the plan of a second landing. Another sloop of war, the Emulation, has been despatched from Toulon, to join the Perle, which is stationed off the Tuscan coast, for the purpose of watching the movements of the Legitimates there. All our late accounts, from the west of France, confirm the suspicion that a new attempt is intended by the infatuated and incorrigible leaders of the legitimatist cause. One of the prefects, near the Pyrenees, writes that notice had been given there, by Bourmont, Larochejacquelin, Clouet, and other Carlists in the service of their worthy ally, Don Miguel, that, whether victorious or defeated, they would fall back on the French frontier, and do their best to revolutionize that part of France. The Prefect adds, that information had also been received there of the intention of the Duchess de Berri to land on a certain part of the coast of Provence, which is pointed out, and the time and mode of her landing there; and the approach, and the appearance, on the side of the Pyrenees, of the armed band from Portugal, have, probably, been concerted, so as to take place at the same moment. Notwithstanding all the measures taken to defeat this scheme, it would not be surprizing that, if its execution were attempted, it would, in part, at least, succeed. The Duchess de Berri has still a sufficient number of friends, in that part of France, to make it probable that the means of a landing will be secured to her a second time; but, as to her chances of ultimate success, they have most assuredly not increased since her former attempt.

Marshal Maison has returned to Paris, from the north, where he had been despatched to watch over the movements of the Sovereigns. He had, it is affirmed, several long interviews with the King of Prussia, in the course of which the admission was made, by that monarch, that he considered a Congress, at this time, most inopportune, and more likely to stir up political discontent than to quiet it, and that he wholly disapproved of the proceeding, to which he yielded solely at the repeated and pressing instances of the Emperor of Russia.—There is a very firm conviction, therefore, in the best political circles in Paris, that the King of Prussia will not lend his aid to any of the wild, ambitious projects of the Autocrat.

The Berlin State Gazette, of the 19th instant, contains the following, of the 14th, from Prague—"Letters of the 13th, from Munchengratz, communicate some particulars respecting the arrival of the Emperor Nicholas in that town. The Emperor of Austria went out towards Liebenau to meet the Russian Monarch, and both Sovereigns arrived in one of our Emperor's carriages, drawn by six horses. The arrival of their Majesties was announced by the firing of 101 guns, and military music. The Empress of Austria, with the Grand Duke and Duchess of Weimar, received the two Emperors on the staircase. This august circle has since been increased by the arrival of the Crown Prince of Prussia, who joined the Emperors on the evening of the 11th. These high personages all inhabit the palace of Count Waldstein, and every day dine together, with a number of chosen guests. In the evening, they generally meet at the soire'es given by the Empress. A select company of actors from Prague last night, gave a representation at the Theatre of the Palace. Having afforded much pleasure to the high auditory, they are to perform several other pieces during the stay of the Sovereigns. The Monarchs are naturally attended by a numerous suite.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The report of the insurrection at Constantinople is, it seems, premature, though, judging from the present state of affairs in Turkey, and more especially in the capital, nothing was more likely to happen. It is perfectly true, however, that a tremendous conflagration broke out in Constantinople on the 30th, which was still raging when the Meteor steam boat left that port on the evening of the 31st. The cause of this fire is not known, but supposed to have originated by accident.

ANTWERP.—Letters of the 21st inst. state that the Dutch have opened a Dyke, and inundated the village of Doel, near Fort Liefkenshock.

PARIS, 25th.—Reports of an insurrection at Constantinople are afloat, according to a letter from Ancona, of the 11th. An English steam boat, the Meteor, had just landed M. Manderville, who had left Constantinople on the 31st August, with despatches, stating that 16,000 houses had been burned down, and that the Sultan had sought a refuge at Pera, where preparations were making to uphold his authority. The French Government appears to have received no confirmation of this news, the authenticity of which is denied by the Ministerial Journal des Debats, though most of our advices of the 26th represent the Ottoman capital as threatened with commotion, and its Christian residents as anxiously guarding against some incendiary designs.

The Vienna Court is actively engaged in putting its fortresses in a state of defence, and it is said that the Upper Tyrol has been rendered almost impregnable. It is likely the state of Italy (in which Austria has, at this moment, 120,000 men,) has excited the serious attention of the Northern Courts. Advices by various channels concur in stating that a confederacy of the Italian Princes, under the supreme protection of Austria, is contemplated. Reports of arrests in various parts of the Peninsula, are daily reaching us. A conspiracy is stated to have been discovered in Tuscany, and a number of persons have been seized at Florence, Pisa, and Leghorn, whence Jerome Bonaparte, who is now in Stutgardt, is said to have been expelled, 1,000 muskets having been found concealed in his house. Another disturbance has occurred at Faenza, whose inhabitants have been disarmed. A mutiny is also reported to have broken out in Sardinia, in which the soldiers killed several of their officers.

From the National Gazette.

We have received London papers to the 23d of September, and copy the latest intelligence from the New York gazettes. The account of Don Miguel's proposition to capitulate may be doubted, though we may deem it certain that the British have attempted a mediation between the hostile parties. From the inaction of Don Miguel's forces after the repulse of the 5th September, we should infer that they were altogether incompetent to recover Lisbon, or were restrained by negotiations. Bell's Weekly Messenger, of the 22d, says—

"The news from Lisbon, although not of a decisive character, is of a satisfactory nature. The army of Don Miguel has made an attack, and suffered a severe loss in its repulse. To an army constituted like that of Don Miguel, a repulse is equivalent to a defeat in its disastrous consequences. We cannot, however, conceal from ourselves, that the situation of Don Pedro in Portugal is by no means secure. He undoubtedly has gained to himself and party the affections and the assistance of the inhabitants of all the large towns in Portugal; but the country people are still under the influence of the priesthood. Thus, around Lisbon, the forces of Don Miguel appear to meet with every assistance, and in the neighborhood of Oporto the garrison of Don Pedro are as closely blocked in by the peasantry and guerillas, as the French in Algiers by the Arabs of the desert. Such a state of things, however, cannot last. Don Pedro holds the keys of Portugal, and the next arrival will most likely bring news of such a defeat of his opponents as may enable him to take the proper measures to enforce order and submission in the country round him."

Mary, Wife of William III.—Mary, the daughter of James the Second, was a most affectionate wife to William, Prince of Orange.

When asked what she intended her husband should be, if she became Queen, she answered, "All rule and authority shall be vested in him.—There is but one command, which I wish him to obey; and that is, 'Husbands love your wives.' For myself, I shall follow the injunction, 'Wives be obedient to your husbands in all things.'"

She kept the promise she had voluntarily made. They were proclaimed under the title of William and Mary, but the power was entirely vested in him.—She was an amiable and excellent princess, and by her example made industry and domestic virtue fashionable. She was constant and earnest in her attachment to the king, and all her efforts were to promote his interest, and make him beloved by the people. Her letter to Lady Russell, in which she deplores the bustle and pomp of royalty, because it separated her so much from her husband, is a beautiful proof how much stronger were the feelings of the woman than those of the Queen.

The king had great confidence in her ability and discretion. During his absence, she was several times left regent of the kingdom, and although the conflicting state of parties rendered the office exceedingly difficult, she discharged her duty in a remarkably energetic and judicious manner.

She died in 1694, in her thirty third year. Her husband showed a degree of affliction hardly to be expected from one whose feelings were so habitually subdued, that the English considered him cold in his affections.—For several weeks, he was entirely incapable of attending to any business. "I cannot do otherwise than grieve," said he to Archbishop Tennison, "since I have lost a wife, who, during the seventeen years I have lived with her, never committed an indiscretion."

Extracts from the London Markets, Sept. 23d, 1833.

We have a fair supply of Wheat this week; the trade is however firm, on quite as good terms as on Monday. In Barley, Beans, and Peas, there is no variation in value. Oats, of which there is a fair arrival from Ireland, scarcely sell on so good terms.

SUGAR—The extensive arrivals of produce this week, particularly from the West Indies, occasioned a still greater heaviness in the Sugar Market, and the price must again be stated 1s. lower. There are, however, few sellers at any reduction. The estimated sales of this week only amount to 2,000 hhds. and trs. In the refined market, there have been Lumps manufactured from the cane juice (lately imported;) they resemble the patent make, but we believe no sales have been effected. The refined market has been very dull, and the few sales reported are still at lower prices; ordinary, crushed on board, 31s. a 32s., and fine at 35s. there are still buyers at these prices, but few or no sellers. This afternoon, there are still inquiries for the fine description of crushed, and offers of 34s. a 34s. 6d., are freely made, but the refiners refuse to sell at these prices, and have obtained in a few instances, for small parcels, 34s.; but some of the holders will not even sell at that price. One parcel of low crushed is reported to have been sold at 31s., but there does not appear to be any more offering upon the same terms. The grocers have not been buying quite so freely this week.

Extraordinary Mistake.—At an early hour on Thursday morning, the dead body of a colored man, about 30 years of age, was found in Franklin street, by a watchman, who immediately communicated the circumstance to the Coroner. In the course of the day an inquest was held on the body, and the Jury having no evidence who the deceased was, or how he came to his death, found the usual verdict in such cases, and the body was conveyed to the Alms House in order to be interred. Whilst on its way thither, a person who was passing, happened to see it, and recognized it to be the son of a rather respectable colored man named Aron Wood. The person who thus recognized the body, immediately went and informed Wood, who proceeded to the Alms House, and after satisfying himself that he beheld the body of his son, claimed it and conveyed it home.

A very elegant coffin was purchased, the body placed in it, and preparations made to bury it yesterday morning. The friends of the deceased had assembled to attend the funeral, and the coffin was about to be carried out of the house, when to the utter astonishment of all present, Wood's son walked in, in perfectly good health from an excursion which he had been making in the country. His father at first could scarcely believe the evidence of his senses, or be persuaded what he beheld before him was any more than a mere phantom. On being convinced, however, that it was really his son, he sent back the dead body to the Alms House, in the costly coffin which he had purchased, as he thought, for the interment of his own son.—Jour. of Com.

RHODE ISLAND SENATOR.—We learn from the Newport Mercury, that, in the Legislature of R. Island, on Thursday, the resolution offered at the last session, declaring the election of Mr. Robbins to the U. S. Senate, in January 1st, to be void, was called up and passed, by a majority of 16. On Friday, a resolution was offered, for the two Houses to join in Grand Committee for the purpose of electing a Senator in the Congress of the U. States, in the place of Mr. Robbins, which passed by a majority of 20. The Hon. E. R. PORTER was then nominated, and elected without opposition.—Poulson.

Napoleon.—The following vigorous sketch is from the pen of the renowned statesman and patriot, Gov. MORRIS. The rise, progress, and downfall of Napoleon, is eloquently described in a few words.

"In the month of September, 1812, the son of an obscure family, in a small island of the Mediterranean, was at the head of a greater force than was ever yet commanded by one man during the long period to which history extends. His brows encircled with an imperial diadem, his sword red with the blood of conquered nations, his eye glaring on the fields he had devoted to plunder, his feet trampling on the neck of kings, his mind glowing with wrath, his heart swollen with the consciousness of power unknown before, he moved, he seemed, he believed himself, a god. While at one extremity of Europe his ruthless legions drenched with loyal blood, the arid soil of Spain, he marched with gigantic strides, at the other extremity, to round his vast dominions in the widest circle of the civilized world. Already he had pierced the Russian line of defence. Already his hungry eagles were pouncing on his prey—Pause—View steadily this statue of colossal power.—The arms are of iron; the breast is of brass; but the feet are of clay. The moment of destruction impends. Hark! The blow is given—it totters—it falls—it crumbles to dust."

A fine steam ship is now building at Savannah, which is intended to play between that city and St. Augustine. This will be another link in the line of steam navigation, which will probably soon be completed, between our Atlantic cities of the North and South, and which may be extended even to the Gulf of Mexico. The commencement has been made in the steam packet between New York and Charleston and the success of the experiment will awaken the attention of capitalists. The difficulties which are now found in steam navigation at sea will vanish before the mechanical ingenuity for which our countrymen are distinguished, and each succeeding voyage will suggest some new improvement.—Bal. Gaz.

Cod Fishing.—It is known, probably to many, perhaps not all, of our readers, that our good old Cape takes its name from the fact, that formerly, large numbers of cod fish were taken near it.—Bartholomew Gosnold, is said to have discovered it in the year 1602, and having taken a great quantity of these fish near it, gave it its present name. There are two favorite places of resort for the Cod; one in Europe off Doggers' Bank, Well Bank and Grommer; the other, and most extensive and important, on the Coast of Nova Scotia and Newfoundland, comprising the Grand Bank and Labrador. The amount of these fish, taken annually by Americans, French, and English, has been estimated at 40,000,000.—Barnstable Journal.

Singular Fact.—There is, at present, living in Dow street, Sunderland, a child that was born with the mark of a butterfly upon its face, which is subjected to the following remarkable changes: In the summer season the resemblance of the head is prominent, the wings, legs, &c., highly colored, the whole of a considerable greater degree of heat than any other part of the child's body; in winter, the wings, legs, &c. are scarcely perceptible, the head diminishes to a mere speck, and the whole is of a deathlike coldness.—York Herald.

☞ There is a lady, in this city, who has the mark of a raspberry on the back of her neck, which disappears almost entirely during the winter season, but becomes more prominent as the spring opens, and increases in depth of color, and perfection of outline, until it assumes as perfectly the appearance of a ripe raspberry as if it had been painted. Having arrived at maturity, it gradually disappears, and, during the winter, only a small, indistinct spot is visible.—Bost. Transcript.

Internal Navigation.—We are informed, says the New York Journal of Commerce, that the Delaware and Raritan Canal, running from New Brunswick to Bordentown, will be opened for Navigation the ensuing Spring. When this is done, not only will sloops be able to ply between this city and Philadelphia, by going half the distance which they are obliged to go at present, but they may run from Stonington, Conn., to the interior of North Carolina, without once entering the open sea. The course will be through Long Island Sound, and the harbor and bay of New York, and Princess Bay, to New Brunswick; thence through the Delaware and Raritan Canal, about 30 miles to the Delaware river; down the Delaware to Delaware city; thence through the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, 13 1-2 miles to the head of Chesapeake Bay; down Chesapeake Bay to Norfolk; thence through the Dismal Swamp Canal to the interior of North Carolina.

Another Postmaster has been arrested in Broome county, New York, for taking $300 from a letter.

NIGHT—BY J. MONTGOMERY.

Night is the time to rest:
How sweet, when labors close,
To gather round an aching breast
The curtain of repose:
Stretch the tired limbs, and lay the head
Upon our own delightful bed!

Night is the time for dreams;
The gay romance of life,
When truth that is, and truth that seems,
Blend in fantastic strife;
Ah! visions less beguling far
Than waking dreams by daylight are!

Night is the time for toil;
To plough the classic field,
Intent to find the buried spoil
Its wealthy furrows yield;
Till all is ours that sages taught,
That poets sang, or heroes wrought.

Night is the time to weep,
To wet with unseen tears
Those graves of memory, where sleep
The joys of other years;
Hopes that were angels in their birth,
But perished young, like other things on earth!

Night is the time to watch;
On ocean's dark expanse
To hail the Pleaides, or catch
The full moon's earliest glance,
That brings into the home sick mind
All we have loved or left behind.

Night is the time for care:
Brooding on hours mis spent;
To see the spectre of despair
Come to our lonely tent;
Like Brutus midst his slumbering host,
Startled by Cæsar's stalwart ghost.

Night is the time to muse:
Then from the eye the soul
Takes flight, and with expanded views,
Beyond the starry pole,
Descries, athwart the abyss of night,
The dawn of uncreated light.

Night is the time to pray;
Our Savior of withdrew
To desert mountains, far away;
So will his followers do;
Steal from the throng to haunts untrod,
And hold communion there with God

Night is the time for death—
When all around is peace,
Calmly to yield the weary breath:
From sin and suffering cease;
Think of heaven's bliss, and give the sign
To parting friends—such death be mine!

Fairbanks' Platform Scales.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved BALANCE, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Franklin Institute, of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington, Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

"The Messrs. Fairbanks, some time since, obtained a patent for a Platform Weighing Machine, and this mode of adjuating and graduating the Beam of the Balance, and the weights, was devised by them with a view to its employment with the before mentioned machine. We have had an opportunity of examining one of their balances, and have been much pleased with it: this examination, however, was not necessary to the conviction that it possesses a just claim to the character of a real improvement, the whole arrangement being so simple as to enable any person to perceive that it is well adapted to the purpose contemplated, that of facilitating the business of weighing, and more especially of heavy articles."

The subscriber, as Agent, will receive orders for the above Scales, which will be made in this city to order. They can be seen at his Warehouse, No. 84, Front street.

Paper Mill for Sale.

THE Extensive Establishment, known as the Soft Spring Paper Mill, now in the occupancy of C. Lukens & Co. is offered for sale.—Its situation is both desirable and healthy, possessing local advantages superior to any mill in the west, with a spring of pure, soft water, yielding a superabundance for all purposes—propelled by an engine sufficiently powerful, and to which has recently been added an entire New Machine for the manufacture of paper. Its location is about two miles from the city, on the Eastern Turnpike. The subscribers have no hesitation in believnig it offers inducements to purchasers highly advantageous.

The terms will be rendered satisfactory, and but a small portion of the purchase money required at the time of sale, with an extended credit for the residue, being determined to make an early disposal. It will be sold low. Application made personally, or by communication, to either of the subscribers, will be attended to.

PETER & SHINN

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscribers, Trustees of the New Philadelphia Society, at Phillipsburgh, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, offer for sale the following property, to wit:

1	tract of land	containing	330 acres
1	do	do	330
1	do	do	67
1	do	do	7
1	do	do	40
	other lots, containing about		6

The above lands lie in one body, fronting about two miles upon the Ohio river—immediately opposite the mouth of Big Beaver creek, and the Beaver Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. The land is rich, and a part of it under a high state of cultivation—its location pleasant and healthy. The improvements upon the same are valuable, including the town of Phillipsburgh, late the residence of Count Leon, and the New Philadelphia Society. The town contains about 40 Dwelling Houses, now in order; some of them brick houses and two stories high. A large and spacious Hotel, a Store house, Church, a number of Shops, for mechanics, Stables, Barns, and other out houses. Also, two large new buildings, lately erected, but not yet finished, one of brick, the other of frame (the latter suitable for a manufactory) a very extensive public garden, and also fruit trees of various kinds. The property has also attached to it the right of a ferry across the Ohio, which is valuable, and becoming more so every day.

The above property is situated in the midst of a wealthy and prosperous country, distant about 28 miles below Pittsburgh, and one mile from Beaver, the seat of justice for Beaver county---and having a view for many miles up and down the Ohio, and of the country to a great distance around.

The subscribers are confident in saying that few situations could be found, presenting greater facilities to the farmer, mechanic, the manufacturer, and others--- a soil rich and productive---the neighborhood abounding in coal---well timbered and watered, and, by means of the Pennsylvania Canal, and steamboat navigation, a cheap and ready conveyance to market, and a communication with other places is ensured.

The property is susceptible of divisions into farms, or for the location of new towns, or for the extension of the present one.

Should it not be sold on or before the first day of January next, it will then be offered at public sale, upon the premises, to the highest and best bidder.

It will be sold in a body, or in parcels, to suit purchasers.

Terms of sale will be reasonable.

Information can be had by enquiring of the subscribers, two of whom live in the neighborhood, and one on the premises.

PERIODICALS.

AMERICAN RAILROAD JOURNAL, and Advocate of Internal Improvements, which is designed as a repository of the accounts of the rise and progress of numerous works of Internal Improvement, in the United States particularly, and in other parts of the world generally. The work is published weekly, and forms a large octavo volume each year, of 832 pages of 3 columns each, for $3 per annum, in advance.

New York Farmer, and American Gardener's Magazine. This work is designed for the agriculturist, and will be found to contain much, both interesting and profitable, to those who cultivate the soil as a business, or merely a garden for amusement. Published in monthly parts of 32 large octavo pages, with three columns each, at $3 per annum, in advance.

Mechanics' Magazine, and Register of Improvements and Inventions. To the Mechanics of the United States---In this populous and enlightened country, almost every description of persons can obtain knowledge and amusement connected with their peculiar pursuits, through the medium of the Journal or Magazine, especially devoted to their interests. The Theologian, the Farmer, the Philosopher, the Sportsman, and even the Plough Boy, has each his Journal, where he can find a record of the passing events of the day, connected with his peculiar avocations and recreations. Hitherto, the Mechanics (who form a large and most important portion of the community) have had no Journal, to which they could turn, with the certainty of finding that information they desire, no periodical of which they could say: 'This is ours, and for us.' In the hope that the attempt to supply such a want at a price so reasonable as to be within the reach of all, will meet with your active support, the subscriber proposes to publish, on the first day of each month, a Mechanics' Magazine. It will contain a well digested selection of the most useful and interesting articles in the London Mechanics' Magazine, London Register of Arts and Sciences, Repertory of Inventions, Library of Useful Knowledge, Journal of the Franklin Institute, and other works, connected with the arts and manufactures, published in this country and in Europe, accompanied with numerous and well executed Engravings. Its pages will be open for the communications of all, and especially for those of the practical artisan, to whose interest it will be particularly devoted. The Mechanics' Magazine will contain, also, a due portion of the occurrences of the month, Scientific and Literary Reviews of Books, Anecdotes, Economical Receipts, Reports of the state of Mechanics' Institutions, and other Scientific Societies in this state and other countries: To be published monthly. Each succeeding number will contain 64 pages, handsomely printed, and stitched in a neat cover. Six numbers will form a volume, for which an index and title page will be supplied, and also a Portrait of some distinguished Mechanic, as a Frontispiece. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S

☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM. ☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞ A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving temporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradually increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

To Baltimore and Philadelphia

TRAVELLERS.

THE LINE OF STAGES between Chambersburgh and Baltimore, on the Somerset and Mountpleasant route, has been doubled, and now runs DAILY, (Mondays excepted,) leaving Chambersburgh at day-light in the morning, and arriving in Baltimore, early the same evening.

Passengers reach Philadelphia, in this way, the second afternoon, from Chambersburgh, without the loss of any rest; taking the splendid STEAM BOAT LINES, which set out at 6 o'clock in the morning, [via CHESAPEAKE AND DELAWARE CANAL, a work well worth the trip to see.]

REESIDE, Owner.

In all cases where the passengers desire to reach Baltimore in time for the 5 o'clock steam-boat to Philadelphia, they can do so by leaving Chambersburgh at one o'clock in the morning, or immediately after the arrival of the Western Mail Stage. In this way, they arrive in Philadelphia, by eight o'clock the second morning, from Chambersburgh.

☞ When a load offers, the stage will run on Mondays. April 23, 1830.—tf.

TYPE FOUNDRY.

HAVING purchased of Mr. Richard Ronaldson, his long established and very extensive Type Foundry, the subscribers have formed a co-partnership for the purpose of continuing said business, and for the convenience of their friends and patrons, have removed their establishment to a more central part of the city. As it is their intention to keep on hand a good assortment of the best type, and to make such additions and improvements as the taste of the trade and the wants of the country require, they flatter themselves that this establishment will merit a large share of patronage. They have now several founts on hand, which can be furnished at a few hours' notice, and are prepared to make founts of all weights and sizes, from Pearl to 22 lines Pica, including a variety of Ornamental Letter. Their assortment of Cuts, Dashes, Brass Rule, and other Ornaments, will be found to be very extensive, of which specimens will be forwarded to Printers as soon as they can be prepared.

Printing Presses of every description, Printing Ink of the most approved qualities, Composing Sticks, Brass and Common Galleys, Chases, Imposing Stones, Cases, Paper and Press Boards, Standing Presses, Furniture, together with a complete assortment of all articles used in a Printing Office, will be kept constantly on hand.

Small founts, suitable for Book Binders, in great variety, may be had when called for.

Orders from all parts in the Union will be promptly and most carefully attended to, and particularly in supplying sorts for all founts furnished by their predecessors, Binny & Ronaldson, and Richard Ronaldson.
